DESCRIPTION OF THE ITEM

ALFALFA

DIETARY SUPPLEMENTS

Alfalfa (Medicago sativa) have been cultivated for over 2000 years. Today, it is considered a truly wonderful herb. The roots of alfalfa reach deep into the ground – down to minerals and essential nutrients that otherwise may not be available closer to the surface. Lucerne belongs to the bean family. Its native area is North Africa, Asia and Europe. Today, it is found in almost all regions of the world. Although it is often cultivated, it also grows widely in the wild.

- Alfalfa helps women maintain good sexual condition.
