URY

DIETARY SUPPLEMENTS

Uri is an excellent product rich in vitamins and minerals. Its composition includes vitamins C, B1, B2, D and powdered herbs and minerals, such as magnesium or potassium. Herbs are fundamental in the composition of the product. For example, barberry enhances the secretion of digestive glands and improves appetite. Marshmallow is antibacterial and soothing to the mouth and throat. Horsetail strengthens the walls of vessels and may contribute to the remineralization of the body. The composition of the product also includes dandelion root that, thanks to its prebiotic effects, contributes to the improved condition of the digestive tract and supports the physiological pH balance in the stomach. Moreover, Uri is a source of folic acid. Folate helps supports the production of blood and proper synthesis of amino acids. Uri also contains common hops that help women cope with menopausal symptoms such as hot flashes, sweating, anxiety and irritability.

- Schisandra, on the other hand, contributes to maintaining physiological cleansing functions.
- Birch leaves improve the digestive and detoscopic processes of the body.
