DIETARY SUPPLEMENTS

Vitamin C from Nature's Sunshine is a product that – thanks to the combination of ingredients such as vitamin C, rutin and hesperidin – has a significant impact on the functioning of the body. The product contains a very large amount of Vitamin C, i.e. 1000 mg (1250% DV), and supports the following processes: proper functioning of the immune system during and after intense physical exercises; production of collagen, which ensures proper functioning of bones, cartilage, gums and skin; proper energy metabolism; and proper functioning of the nervous system. Vitamin C also helps reduce tiredness and fatigue, as well as protects cells from oxidative stress.

- Vitamin C supports functioning of the immune system.
- Vitamin C strengthens the immune system during and after an intense physical exercise.
- Rose hip contributes to joint mobility and their lasting strength.
